

Patient-Centric Clinical Trial Services

Putting the patient at the centre of your trial

One healthcare partner, one integrated solution

A truly patient-centric solution for your clinical trial that puts the patient at the centre, in his or her own home. Together, Sharp and Ashfield can offer you a seamless service that will reduce the time and complexity usually associated with home-based clinical services. Once your clinical supplies have been delivered to the patient's home, our team will be there to support them too.

A better experience for patients...

-

Enhance the patient experience
Enabling the patient to live a more normal life with treatment from home.
-

Accelerate enrolment & retention
Offer more convenience to patients to join and remain engaged in your trial.
-

Improve adherence & compliance
Solutions and services that guide and manage the patient from home.

And better outcome for you...

-

Reduce supplier complexity
Leverage one partner to support all of your trial needs.
-

Access quality data earlier
Access and analyse your trial data earlier.
-

Enhance trial efficiencies
Harmonize your clinical supply strategy with your patient care strategy.

Sharp's Direct-to-Patient Services

A patient-centric clinical trial methodology brings specific additional considerations for optimizing your distribution chain for direct-to-patient clinical trials. Sharp Clinical has the capabilities and experience to deliver on all aspects of a compliant trial program, including:

Clinical Manufacturing in a range of diverse dosage formats

Labeling and packaging for many packaging format types

Clinical IRT to manage trial supplies for your study and your patients

Fulfilment and distribution, right to your patient's door

Sharp will develop a carrier and distribution program optimized to your trial, designed to the exact requirements of your drug candidate, considering many factors such as temperature control and the frequency of dispatches to the patient's home.

Ashfield's Home Care Services

Ashfield Patient Solutions can provide home care services, delivered by highly skilled and trained nurse teams across the globe. Our teams are able to visit patients in the comfort of their homes, supporting them to participate in each clinical trial. This support could include:

Patient and caregiver training and education

Study drug administration, including sub-cutaneous and intravenous infusion

Blood taking and other biologic sampling

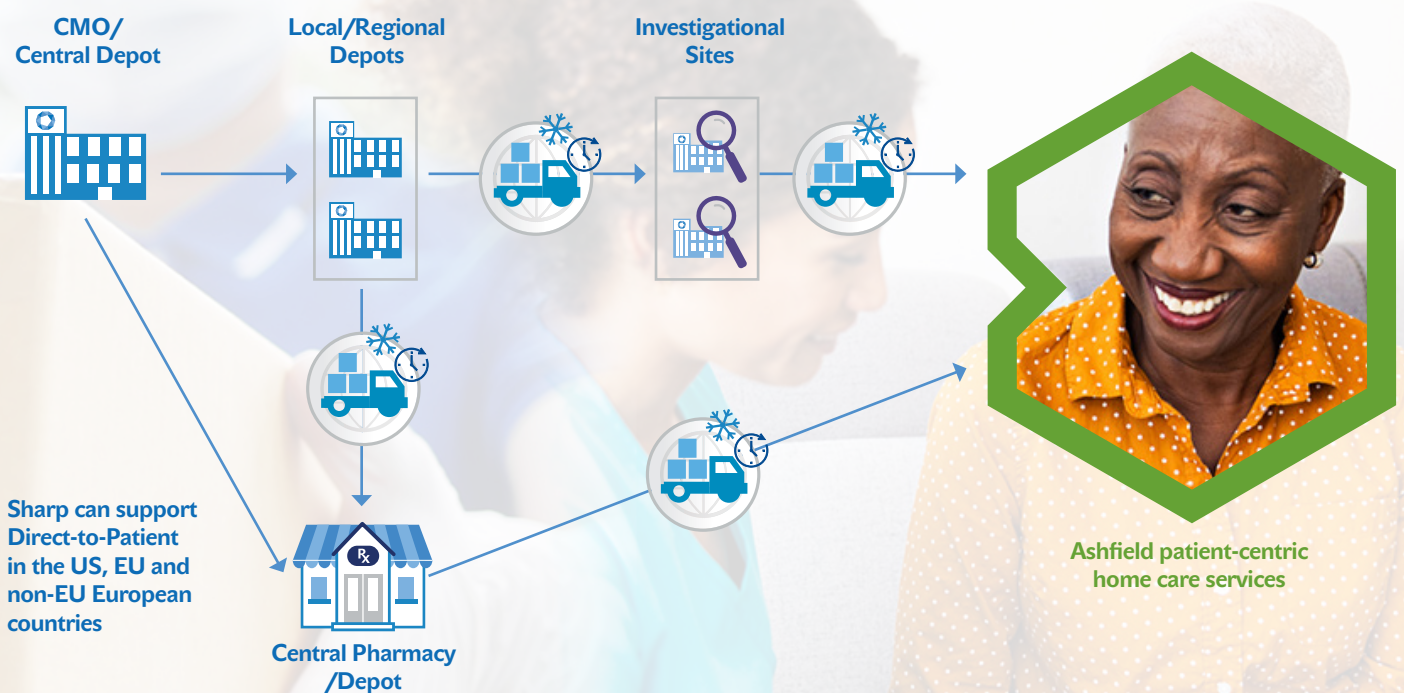

Clinical assessment of vital signs

Smart data capture, including patient adherence messaging and activity scheduling using our Trak360 patient engagement platform

 The images and descriptions within this document were created to outline our Patient Solutions services across Europe and may differ elsewhere. Contact us for information about our global solutions.*

Delivering clinical trial material directly to the patients home

Start planning your Direct-to Patient strategy today

Contact DTP@sharpclinical.com or visit us to learn more: www.sharpservices.com/DTP

